

Year 7 Box Project

16 Lessons maximum

Stage	Description
Emerging	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Insufficient evidence is provided for a higher mark to be awarded.• Limited knowledge and understanding of the techniques used.• Parts are cut or shaped inaccurately,• Poor preparation of surfaces for the application of finishes.• Poor quality finishes achieved.
Developing	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Simple shapes accurately marked out, or complex shapes marked out lacking accuracy.• Limited precision in the cutting or shaping of parts.• Appropriate methods, tools and equipment usually selected for the materials.• Surfaces are generally well prepared for the application of a finish.• Finishing techniques are used to achieve finishes which are largely flaw-free.
Secure	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Moderate shapes accurately marked out, or complex shapes marked out accurately.• Limited precision in the cutting or shaping of parts.• Appropriate methods, tools and equipment usually selected for the materials.• Surfaces are well prepared for the application of a finish.• Finishing techniques are used to achieve finishes which are flaw-free.
Excellence	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Complex shapes marked out with good accuracy.• Parts cut or shaped with superb precision.• Appropriate methods tools and equipment selected for the materials.• Surfaces are very thoroughly prepared for the application of a finish.• Finishing techniques are applied to achieve high quality finishes, at the highest marks of commercial quality.