Team MFL: broadening horizons

Our Team

Whatever it takes is the motto of our MFL team, who have regenerated the subject over the last couple of years, making it exciting and engaging for students across all year groups.

The popularity and current success of the subject is down to the collaborative approach that the team take: we openly share best practice and have created a vibrancy and energy in the learning centre that other teams want to replicate!

The Post

We are seeking a new member of the team who will share the passion of the team to secure outstanding outcomes for our students.

Our ideal team member will be brimming with ideas about how to make learning purposeful, fun and active for our students.

Our Student Outcomes

During a period of significant positive change and rapid improvement the team has closed the gap between our outcomes and the national averages. Despite previous national uncertainty in relation to the new specification GCSE exams, last year saw our students make greater progress than the national average, and over one fifth of our students achieved the coveted grades 7-9. We are now one of the best performing departments in the College.

But there is still work to do and we are determined to do it!

Our Curriculum

We have implemented an exciting curriculum and a culture of praise in the department in order to promote high engagement. Lessons have a growing focus on the development of listening and speaking skills, in line with current research, and we use a high level of Target Language in our day-to-day teaching. We are finding that this has had a positive impact on our students' confidence in these areas and, as a result, their enjoyment of the subject has increased and uptake for GCSE has doubled in the last few years!

The team regularly share resources and we share planning across different year groups. As a result, there is now a comprehensive resource bank on our virtual learning environment (VLE).

French is currently taught in mixed ability groups in Year 7, with setting in Year 8. A refined grouping system is in place for Years 9, 10 and 11.

There are well-resourced modules of work and assessments, which form the basis of all teaching at Key Stages 3 and 4. We use online textbooks such as Studio and Kerboodle to supplement resources produced in-house, as well as subscribing to Vocab Express and Exampro to provide our students with targeted vocabulary and examination practice.

Outside of lessons, the team have worked hard to provide further opportunities for learning, including our hugely successful entries in the Vocab Express Global Challenges, as well as running other in-house competitions and organising events such as outdoor cinema and student-led language taster sessions to celebrate European Day of Languages. There is also a tremendously popular French ski trip every two years.

These, along with embedded AfL techniques deployed throughout the curriculum, have seen a real consistency in delivery and high expectations across the department.

At GCSE, the department offers AQA French but are looking for options to expand in the future and so the ability to offer an additional language would be desirable.

Our Facilities

We are housed together on one floor and the department is fantastically well-resourced.

All rooms have interactive whiteboards and projectors and all staff have their own laptop.

We have our own staffroom and staff work room.

We have a computer suite in two classrooms and additional computers in the work room.
